November // 2020 EDITION
Pacific Coast Bulldog Club, Inc.

Elections at Next club meeting: November 11, 2020 @ 7:00 PM Location: 230 Cardinal Lane, Riverside, CA 92507

Thanks for the memories....

Dear Club members you may or may not know this but this month we have to face heartbreak of losing three of our most tenured club members that have served as PCBC pillars of strength for many years.

If you have not guessed already by the pictures, we bid farewell to Kathy Hairston (member 38 yrs.), Bonnie Johnson (member 17 yrs.) and Scott Johnson (member 19 yrs.). To put your mind at ease they are simply moving out of state and they are doing just fine, thank God. Given the fact that we are such a small tight knit community of members, it would be hard to relate any novel information about them, as they have been part of our family for all of these years.

Therefore, we dedicate this Bullpup issue to all three of them in an effort to express to them what they mean to us. I hope that as a member who is still very new to the club that I may be able to convey with sincere conviction how we all must be feeling about the departure of our three good friends.

BULLPUP

The reason for picking these three pictures above is that I felt that they best captured the essence or spirit of each person as we have come to know them. The following is an effort of what a goodbye letter might say to these three wonderful members if we all put our thoughts down.

KATHY HAIRSTON

Dear Kathy, you alone could brighten the darkest corners of the world. Your self-deprecating humor communicates to everyone around you that you are humble, strong and at the same fearless not allowing what others may think prevent you from being the wonderful person you are. You dedicate your existences to making those around you laugh and feel better about themselves. You are generous always placing yourself at the butt of a joke because you are confident in your own skin. But you are also an understanding person, caring, insightful and compassionate.

My son knows this first hand as you have always made sure to look out for him; your maternal instincts are supreme. Very rarely have I seen a person go to such an extent to engage a child's attention that is not their own, making sure that they retain full appreciation for the events that they are experiencing and their significance. All I can say is that you have been very sweet and your departure from the club has had an impact on all of us. Link Newcomb, expressed that he does not want to deal with you leaving as he cannot believe it and that it comes as a great pain to him.

The other side of your coin is no less. You have been a great participant in the club, finishing up your stint as treasurer as you prepare for your departure to Oklahoma. Just as you are funny you are also proficient at whatever you set your mind to. There is no better proof reader in the room and few if any with the level of attention to detail that you demonstrate; I am jealous I must admit. I wish I had your abilities.

BULLPUP

Bonnie Johnson

Dear Bonnie, you will be missed as our ringside cheerleader and encourager extraordinaire. Always a faithful spectator to Scott and your dogs you are often found in a chair bundled under shawl. Your demeanor is one of welcoming always ready to speak to any new members with kind hello. You are a lovely person always cheerful and encouraging. You are hardwired with a positive vibe at all times, you just make anyone feel good. We will dearly miss you. Your absence will be felt at every show that we attend. Good luck and good fortune in your future endeavors.

Scott Johnson

Dear Scott, you're our gentle giant. At first glance, you are man of impressive stature, tall stoic looking one could even say imposing. But no sooner do you begin to speak and you hear the voice of a soft-spoken man polite in every way kindly taking your time to give anyone your full attention. Your presence alone commands one to do something and it would be more likely than not to get done, but it's not in your nature to do so. In fact, your good nature and your desire to the seek the middle ground always helps to temper discord. You have always been on a mission to seek out and achieve the greater good for the club. We have been fortunate and blessed to have you as a member.

It is a well-known fact Scott, that you have never met a club task you did not like. If there is something to volunteer for or if no one is willing to do a particular job you are sure to be the one to step forward. The amount of work and delegated duties on you over the years demonstrates that when human limits are set against willpower that willpower has no rival. Over the years you have held multiple positions simultaneously leading to the continued success of the club; no doubt. In your departure you leave a void in the volunteerism column that will not soon be filled and not just by one person alone; as it is not possible.

BULLPUP

We congratulate you and wish you well in finding a state of remission from the things that have ailed you as of late. We are all pleased with your latest post shared by you indicating that you are headed in the right direction. You may leave the club but you may not leave us behind as we are not ready for that kind of loss. We love you and we will miss you.

Very truly yours,

Pacific Coast Bulldog Club

We dedicate the following little ditty to you three with a hope that it will take you back to a time when all was right.

Thanks for the memories

Of sentimental verse of your commitment and loyalty, however, your love comes first
From our hearts we say to you: How lovely it has been.

Thanks for the memory
Of Schubert's Serenade
Of the little broods, you've made
Of the Champions that you have claimed
Oh, how lovely it was

Thanks for the memory
Of the many donations, you have made
Of the pretty ribbons, you have saved
Oh how lovely it was

BULLPUP

Thanks for the memory
Of our bulldogs' faults that you forgave, and
Of the many points, you gave
Of the puppies that you've shown
Of the Champions into which they have grown
Oh, how lovely it was

Thanks for the memory
Of bulldog puppy's breath of the tinkling mess they make of the sleepless nights without any rest
Oh how lovely it was

Thanks for the memory
Of the handling skills, you have honed
Of the good judgment, you have shown
By your example we grown
Oh, how lovely it was

Thanks for the memory
Of the travels, we have made
Of the hotels where we have stayed
Of the ribbons, we have chased
Oh, how lovely it was

Thanks for the memory
Of the duties, you have in trust
Of that hard work, sweat, toil and dust, and
Of you we will not forget
Oh, how lovely it was

Thanks for the memory
Of the PCBC friends you made
Of the love that came our way
Of the luck you brought to us
Oh how lovely it was

Thanks for the memory
Of the many stacks on the floor
Of the side profiles and more
Of the five-point major wins
Of your ringside claps and cheers
Oh, how lovely it was my dear

Thanks for the memory
Of your heartfelt warm embrace
Of your sympathetic face that no one can replace
Of your gracious grin earning all those wins
Oh, how lovely it was

BULLPUP

Thanks for the memory
Of the chile, cook-offs that you ate
Of the resulting empty plates
Of the bragging rights, you won
Of how lovely it was

Until we meet again, may happy thoughts rein.
Stowaway our memories to fuel your travels far and wide.
Now!..no tears in any eyes as this not goodbye...no fuss, no muss, simply hooray for all of us;
after all...friends, we still remain.
Strictly between us, how are you?
And how are all the dreams you had in you?
Have they come true?
If not, we hope they still do, that's our wish for you...
We are all thankful and glad to have met you three and in our lives you will always be.
Cheerio and toodle-oo, thank you (Kathy), thank you (Scott), and thank you (Bonnie)...
We already miss you...the best of luck to you.

This is an effort to let those we care for not leave our side without knowing how much we appreciate them.
